MASS NIGHT ATTACK ON LONDON REPELLED; DAY ASSAULT SEVERE

No Serious Damage Caused by Moonlight Raids—Anti-Aircraft Fire Again Effective—Earlier Forays Aimed at Royal Palace and Historic Public Buildings

LONDON, Sept. 14 (P).—Massed German aircraft, attacking London in a night-long moonlight raid for the seventh consecutive night, ran up against a sky mine field of bursting anti-aircraft shells early today. Returning to the attack after bombing the seat of monarchy and government yesterday, the Nazis opened the seventh consecutive night of heavy bombing at 9 o'clock last night.

High explosive and incendiary bombs dropped in the southwest and western areas of the metropolis, but it appeared the defenders' fire prevented most of the raiders from reaching the centre of the city.

NO SERIOUS DAMAGE
There were no reports of serious or widespread damage.

Coming over London at about fifteen-minute intervals, the raiders ran into intense anti-aircraft fire. They were busy elsewhere in the United Kingdom also.

Early today a lone plane attacked a Welsh town and hit a hotel. Four people were believed killed.

Two heavy salvos of bombs were dropped in South London. Incendiary bombs started fires on the fringe of the centre of the city. Fire services sped into action.

The all clear sounded at 5:25 a.m., ending an all-night alarm that had been in effect for eight hours and twenty-five minutes.

SHELLS DESTROY RAIDER
Shortly before midnight, a single raider was heard to crash in the south, with shells exploding on its tail. Then there was a lull.

DEPARTMENT IN FOUR BRANCHES

National War Services Work To Be Handled by Separate Divisions

OTTAWA, Sept. 13 (P).—With national registration accomplished and machinery in motion for supplying a stream of recruits for the national defence training programme, Hon. J. G. Gardiner's new Department of National War Services is now embarking on a further stage of its allotted duties.

Announcing the formation of four main branches, each with a director, Mr. Gardiner said at a press conference today he had already appointed the director of voluntary services in the person of Dr. Ernest William Stanfield, of Victoria College, University of Toronto.

The three additional branches, human resources, material resources and publicity, will each have a director. G. H. Lash has been director of publicity for some time under another department, and will move his staff into the Resources Ministry.

TWO TO BE ANNOUNCED
Directors for the other two branches will be announced shortly, the minister said.

Co-ordination of the medical services essential in this department for its work of calling and passing upon the physical fitness of approximately 240,000 single men and childless widowers, who will be given thirty-day military courses during the next twelve months, has been entrusted to Dr. Hugh Herbert Christie, of Estevan, Sask., the minister announced.

Dr. Christie, past president of the Medical Association of Saskatchewan and representative of that province on the Medical Council of Canada, will be supervisor of military training medical services.

French Look for Food Substitutes

VICHY, France, Sept. 13 (P).—The French Government met tonight to study the question of food substitutes as the full import of the $8,000,000 daily expense of maintaining the German army of occupation began to impress itself on the public.

The realization grew that the cost of maintaining the more than 2,000,000 German soldiers in France involved vital food supplies as well as money.

NAZIS BOMB MANY AREAS

Official Bulletin Says No Extensive Damage Done in Raids on Britain

LONDON, Sept. 13 (P).—An Air Home Security Ministry bulletin issued tonight:

"Fuller details of the enemy's attacks on Great Britain last (Thursday) night confirm that no extensive damage was done, though bombs were dropped in many parts of the country.

"In two towns in the Midlands and in one town on the south coast, houses were damaged, and in one of the Midlands towns a small number of casualties was caused.

"In the London area the number of persons killed and injured in last night's attacks was not heavy.

"Fuller reports of the previous (Wednesday) night's casualties show that 110 persons were killed and 360 injured in the London area.

BOMBS IN IRELAND
"Early this morning incendiary bombs were dropped in a district of Northern Ireland. Small fires were started, but were quickly extinguished, and there were no casualties.

"At midday today, in addition to the attacks on London, enemy aircraft in small numbers dropped bombs in several districts of South-eastern England. In a town in Essex considerable damage was done, but no casualties have been reported.

"In several other places houses and cottages were hit, but the general damage and casualties are reported as being slight.

"Later enemy aircraft, continuing the methods of sudden attack and surprise, were seen in the air over the south coast of England.

ALBERTON, Wash., Sept. 13 (P).—Francis Williams, seventy-eight-year-old Indian from Port Alberni, B.C., was almost instantly killed here tonight when he was struck by an automobile driven by John M. Johnson, thirty-six of Puyallup State, a fireman.

Steb said Williams suffered a skull fracture and that his right arm and leg were badly mangled.

Williams' widow, who was almost employed in the hop fields, survives. The body was removed to a Puyallup mortuary.

Lieut. William W. Campbell Awarded Distinguished Flying Cross—Friend Tells Flyer's Mother Of Daring Exploits in Mediterranean

ACTING Flight Lieutenant William Weir Campbell, former Victorian, has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross "for gallantry and devotion to duty in execution of air operations," according to an announcement yesterday by the Air Ministry at London.

It is believed here that Campbell received his award for bombing and sinking two Italian submarines in the Mediterranean.

Two other Canadians were also decorated, the Air Ministry announced, P.O. George Black Murray, Calgary, received the D.F.C., and Sgt. Andrew Bertram Cox, Halifax, was awarded the Distinguished Flying Medal.

Word of the award to the Victorian, son of Mrs. P. J. Campbell, 140 Moss Street, and the late Major Campbell, was received here over the telephone.

Undaunted by Torpedoing of Ship

These girls were among hundreds of British children who went through all the experiences of being torpedoed in the Atlantic in the night, and returned to a British port just as anxious to go out again. They were on their way to Canada when the Nazi submarine struck, and although the ship did not sink, all passengers were removed to lifeboats, where they sat with blankets over their night attire singing.

LONE GERMAN RAIDER SCORES HITS ON BUCKINGHAM PALACE

Their Majesties the King and Queen Emerge Unscathed and Nothing Dammed From Shelter—Make Another Tour of Bombed Areas in London's East End

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (P).—For the first time since the outbreak of war, a foreign vessel, the Nordland, today was barred from United States waters for three months for alleged misuse of the American flag. Coast guard officers said they had learned the Panamanian vessel apparently feared torpedoing, had the United States flag painted on her sides while on a trip from Colombo, Ceylon, to Liverpool during April and June.

The attack came during the longest daylight raid on London in which the Nazi attackers apparently aimed deliberately at the Throne and the core of the Empire's institutions.

An incendiary bomb also fell on the House of Lords' Bomba-fell in Whitehall and Downing Street. Others landed in the vicinity of St. Paul.

A LONE RAIDER
A lone German raider was responsible for the attack on the palace. Gliding down with his engines shut off, he loosed his bombs. One scored a direct hit on the Royal chapel, two fell in the central quadrangle, and two just outside the gates.

When the explosions were over, and the all clear had sounded, the King and Queen emerged from their shelter unscathed. They surveyed the damage.

Agreement Gives Men Higher Pay

MONTREAL, Sept. 13 (P).—Increases in wages averaging $2.50 a month are granted in a new agreement reached today between the National Seamen's Association of Canada and eight contracting shipping companies operating on the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence River.

The new wages set are said by association officials to be the highest yet paid by the lake companies, with minor exceptions, and it is pointed out that the increases were arrived at without the aid of any conciliation board but through direct negotiations with company representatives.

A special drive is continuing by investment dealers, banks and brokers to secure a greater proportion of subscriptions from individual subscribers.

In the first war loan last January, private subscribers took 66.6 per cent of the $200,000,000 issue, but total subscriptions from these sources represent less than 50 per cent of the subscriptions received in the second war loan, it is stated.

Brokers and dealers across the country continued to report many previous subscribers returning to increase their orders.

Books of the loan will remain open during the early days of next week to permit new Canadian, who can and will, to subscribe.

ROME, Sept. 13 (AP, Via Radio).—The Italian wireless in a broadcast today announced the death of Tom Chiodi, member of the Fascist Grand Council, in an aerial battle "some time ago" over Malta.

Chiodi, well known as an airplane builder and flyer, as well as a figure in Fascist propaganda, participated in the trans-Atlantic flight to Canada and the United States with the late Marshal Italo Balbo in 1933.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13 (P).—Reliable aviation sources disclosed tonight that Eastern Airline's entire fleet of ten Douglas fourteen-passenger DC-2 air liners have been sold to British interests for a price estimated at more than $500,000.

Delivery will start immediately, and the planes will be replaced by an equal number of Douglas twenty-two-passenger DC-3 air liners capable of landing and taking off from the smallest field now used by the line. Replacements will bring the DC-3 fleet to a total of thirty-five planes.

The planes, some as much as five years old, may be used for training in Canada or for patrol service in Australia, it was said.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (P).—The House of Representatives Naval Affairs Committee today approved legislation authorizing increase of the strength of the United States Marine Corps from its present percentage level of 27,000 to 30,000.

Enemy Shipping Blasted at Le Havre With Tanker And Supply Ship Hit—Pillar of Flame Signals Bull's-Eye on Ammunition Dump—Munitions Centre Raided

Network of Rail Junctions Among Key Centres Bombed

LONDON, Sept. 14 (P).—Le Havre, France's great harbor, once port of call of the world's greatest liners, was blasted on Friday by Royal Air Force bombers, seeking out at their source German concentrations for a possible attempt to invade Britain.

Principal target at Le Havre was enemy shipping, and at least one tanker and a supply ship were hit.

Early today watchers on the cliffs of Dover saw almost continuous flashes of anti-aircraft fire on the German-occupied French coast, where R.A.F. flyers with heavy bombs probed for the German guns which have shelled the Dover area.

A pillar of flame shot high in the air indicating a British missile had found a target, possibly an ammunition dump. The German fire upon the British planes was particularly intense in the vicinity of Cap Gris Nez.

DISORGANIZE PREPARATIONS
Earlier this week the bombers struck repeatedly at Boulogne, Calais and Dunkerque. Channel ports nearest to Britain, aiming particularly at dislocation of enemy ships and supplies in order to disorganize all invasion preparations.

Although an Air Ministry communiqué made no mention of a British raid on Essen, great munitions centre in Germany, the German communiqué acknowledged it had been raided. The German command claimed damage was minimum.

The Air Ministry told of raids on "key distribution centre" at Osnabrück, Hamm, Schwerin, Erfurt and Brussels.

Also raided were several German cities.

DO NOT INTEND TO LEAVE CITY

Nazi Allegations Attempt to Convince World London's Morale Cracking

LONDON, Sept. 13 (P).—The Ministry of Information tonight described as absolutely untrue German broadcast reports this evening from Bremen and Hilversum, Holland, that the British Government, the Court, and the diplomatic corps are on the verge of leaving London.

German-controlled stations quoted as their authority "the American Columbia Broadcasting reporter in London," the ministry said, adding that the reporter in question, Mr. Edward Murrow, authorities say to state that the German version of his remarks totally misrepresents his meaning.

GIVES ACTUAL WORDS
Mr. Murrow's actual words, the ministry said, were: "Presumably plans for the evacuation of London have been ready for more than a year, but I do not believe that serious consideration is being given to such a step at the moment. The King and Government are still in London and unless the city becomes untenable I believe that they will remain."

A further German allegation, that the diplomatic corps is considering making a demarche to the Foreign Office about leaving the capital, is authoritatively stated in London to be equally untrue, the ministry added.

Allegations of this kind from Germany and German-controlled sources are to be expected within the next few days as the German Propaganda Ministry is redoubling its efforts—which so far have failed—to convince the world that London's morale is cracking.

Minister Has High Praise For Workers

LONDON, Sept. 13 (P).—Devotion to the nation by the employees of aircraft factories and engine works who remained on their jobs despite air raid warnings during the last week, "will make a new and splendid chapter in the history of British courage," Lord Beaverbrook, Minister for Aircraft Production, declared in a statement tonight.

The minister thanked the workers for their "remarkable demonstration of fortitude and endurance," and said his ministry will continue its exertions to make factories safe and provide protection against bombs and blasts.

He added that "everything is being done to strengthen and sustain factory defences."

Digging for Bomb Fatal for Five

TURIN, Italy, Sept. 13 (P).—Four soldiers and one civilian were killed and several others wounded when a bomb dropped near the Fiat factory several days ago, exploded while the men were trying to extract it from the earth.

Only twelve people have been killed in Nazi shelling of Dover. Delayed action bombs have done considerable damage. Similar bombs are still exploding in London and on the city's outskirts.

FINED FOR CUTTING LINE
VICHY, France, Sept. 13 (P).—Authorities of the German army of occupation fined the city of Nantes 5,000,000 francs ($100,000) today for cutting a telephone line used by German officials the night of September 6-7.

LATE NEWS BULLETINS

ITALIANS DRIVEN FROM POSITIONS IN KENYA
NAIROBI, Kenya Colony, Sept. 13 (P).—The British communiqué issued tonight: "One of our detachments again attacked the enemy successfully at Waj Quaris and drove them from their positions, inflicting casualties and capturing prisoners. Our casualties were again slight."

RUSSIA WANTS SAY IN DANUBE SHIPPING
BERLIN, Sept. 13 (P).—Germany acknowledged tonight the receipt of notice from Russia that the Soviet would expect to participate hereafter in regulating matters concerning navigation of the Danube River. The notice was made after the German-Balkan Commission meeting in Vienna had declared the old International Danubian Commission formally "dissolved by recent developments."

CANADA GETS COUPLE OF DOZEN PLANES
OTTAWA, Sept. 13 (P).—Canada has taken over about two dozen secondhand fighting planes which the United States Army Air Corps originally released to France shortly before that country's fall. It was learned tonight. The planes, obsolete as far as the United States Army Air Corps is concerned, will be used for advanced training under the Commonwealth air-training scheme.

DOMINION SPENDING TOTALS $94,268,943 IN MONTH
OTTAWA, Sept. 13 (P).—Grand total expenditure of the Canadian Government during August amounted to $94,268,943 compared with $31,948,725 in August last year. It was announced tonight from office of the Comptroller of the Treasury. The wide difference was explained by items in special expenditures. War appropriations totaled $59,323,255. Total ordinary revenue was $54,995,876 compared with $33,516,682 in August last year.

MYSTERIOUS BLAST ROCKS PORTLAND
PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 13 (P).—A terrific blast rocked Southeast Portland tonight, but police were unable to locate its source. Police headquarters and newspaper offices were deluged with calls from persons who felt the concussion. Persons from widely-separated points said pictures and chandeliers in their homes were shaken.

Finds Confidence of Londoners Unshaken By Enemy Bombings

Valiant Men and Courageous Women Still Defiant And Unbroken Despite Fury of Attacks—Gun Defences Taking Toll of Nazis

By J. F. SANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Sept. 13.—I returned to London today after three weeks in the country and found this air-beleaguered metropolis wounded and scarred but unconquered and unafraid.

I found houses demolished, buildings wrecked and gutted, and streets blocked, but that was only the bricks and mortar of this ancient city which the Romans laid out along the Thames. The real London, the London of flesh and blood, of valiant men and courageous women, was still defiant and still unbroken despite all the fury of Hitler's air force.

The tough fibre of these people must be seen to be believed. With wreckage all around them, thousands of them homeless, and with the German army massed across the Channel awaiting the word of high command to invade their country, they spend the gravest hour of their history—in boasting about the power, intensity and ferocity of London's air warfare.

CONFIDENCE IN GUNS

I had not been in London five minutes before a taxi driver was telling me all about it. How powerful the guns were, and how successful they were in dispersing the sky raiders by sustained fire.

The guns have brought confidence to Londoners. The people are now convinced that their city is not just an area where German bombs may be dropped but one section of the world's surface where bombers are held and turned back by a vast crackling furnace of destruction.

For the last two nights German bombers have encountered the heaviest barrage in world history when they flew over London. And Londoners settling down to air raid shelters had a smile of satisfaction on their faces, satisfied that a few more bricks and mortar might be dislodged but that London would never be conquered from the air.

FAITH IS UNDIMINISHED

The people of London have suffered in the past two weeks. You can see that from their drawn and tired faces. Their nerves are worn but their spirits are still unconquered. Faith in their cause is undimmed and confidence in their power and strength is unshaken.

Fair Attendance Shows Increase Over Last Year

APPROXIMATELY 35 per cent more persons visited the annual Fall fair yesterday than attended on the corresponding day last year, officials revealed last night. The extremely large crowd at the grounds in the evening was responsible for the increase, it was reported. The fair will conclude this evening with special features being offered, including a dog show in a building behind the Main Building and a boxing programme in the Sports Centre.

PLAYED PART IN CITY LIFE

Mrs. Fred B. Pemberton Passed Away Yesterday At Jubilee Hospital

The death occurred early yesterday afternoon of Mrs. F. B. Pemberton, a well-known resident of the city for the past forty-eight years. Although she had not been well for several years, Mrs. Pemberton was in normal health until the evening prior to her death. Taken to the Jubilee Hospital at midnight on Thursday, she passed away at 2:35 p.m. yesterday from a heart seizure. An accomplished musician, a great worker during the last war in various patriotic and philanthropic undertakings, and the centre for many years of much of the social life of the community, Mrs. Pemberton played an important part in one chapter of Victoria's history.

Born on July 5, 1869, at St. John's, Nfld., she was the daughter of the late P. W. Bell, a one-time Chief Factor of the Hudson's Bay Company at Michipicoten, north shore of Lake Superior, where she spent her early girlhood. She was sent to Toronto for her education, and later to Germany for two years, to study singing, an accomplishment which made her greatly in demand after she came to Victoria to live. She frequently appeared as soloist in local concert programmes, always being a great favorite with her audiences because of her pleasing voice and charming personality.

MARRIED IN 1892
On November 18, 1892, she married Mr. Fred Pemberton, and Victoria had been her home ever since. Until her health began to fail a few years ago, she was actively interested in many aspects of community life, particularly music, of which she was a consistent patron even after she ceased to take an active part in concert work.

She was also particularly well remembered for the part she played in organizing and assisting various patriotic enterprises during the war of 1914-18, when she worked tirelessly getting up bazaars, concerts and other events in aid of patriotic funds and other war charities. The Christmas Gift Shop, one of the several very successful annual enterprises of those years, was one of her special hobbies.

INTERESTED IN ART
Always interested in all matters concerning art, she was one of the most active supporters of the Art Gallery opened in the east hall of the Crystal Garden shortly after the building was erected. It was greatly due to her interest that it proved so successful, as she worked indefatigably in gathering material for the collection, and together with Mr. Pemberton, was personally responsible for some of the choicest pictures and other objects of art assembled in the exhibition.

She was one of the early members of the Women's Canadian Club of Victoria, of which she was president for some years shortly after its inception here. The club honored her with a life membership. Another of her interests was the prisoners-of-war fund established during the last war.

For many years she had been a member of Christ Church Cathedral congregation.

THOSE WHO SURVIVE
Besides her husband, one son and three daughters, survive: F. J. D. Pemberton, a member of the firm of Pemberton & Son, Ltd., who left a few days ago for Halifax, Armine, Mrs. L. de la, Duke, Phillips, Mrs. Cuthbert Holmes, and Miss A. S. Harvey, Newcastle-on-Tyne, England. Two sons were killed flying in the last war: Desmond and Warren. There are nine grandchildren.

There are also three brothers, P. W. Bell, district engineer, Victoria, who went through the Boer War in the Strathcona Horse; Charles D. Bell, living in Victoria; and J. W. Bell, living in Vancouver. Mrs. Ricardo, wife of W. C. Ricardo, Vernon, is a sister.

Mrs. Pemberton was a niece of the late Major G. T. Dupont, who of her ancestors was Sir Peter Warren, an admiral in the British Navy in Nelson's time. John Dease, Hudson's Bay explorer, after whom Dease Lake was named was another of her ancestors.

In the death of Sister Mary Matthew last evening at St. Ann's Academy, the order loses a worthy member of its religious family and Victoria and Western Canada, one of its most experienced and efficient educators.

Born on May 17, 1873, Sister Mary Matthew (Anne McBride) made her profession in the sisterhood of St. Ann on May 2, 1894.

She managed the commercial department of St. Ann's in Victoria and also in Vancouver, New Westminster and Kamloops, but most of her life was spent in Victoria, where hundreds of her devoted pupils will share the grief of the sisters in the Community of St. Ann.

Those who survive are: Sister Mary, who went through the Boer War in the Strathcona Horse; Charles D. Bell, living in Victoria; and J. W. Bell, living in Vancouver. Mrs. Ricardo, wife of W. C. Ricardo, Vernon, is a sister.

What a relief to settle down to a real night's rest and awake fully refreshed ready for the day's duties. I was tortured by terrible nights—tossing, turning—never comfortable. I'm glad I followed his advice as now I'm sleeping like a top—thanks to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

SEES MEN IN TRAINING AT ISLAND CAMP

Minister of National Defence Inspects Troops Quartered At Nanaimo

WAKESIAH FARM MAY BE PERMANENT BASE

NANAIMO, Sept. 13.—The Hon. Col. J. L. Ralston, Minister of National Defence at Ottawa, paid a two-hour visit to the Non-Permanent Military Camp on Wakelash Farm, one mile west of Nanaimo, today.

He reviewed the troops, and afterwards addressed them over a public speaker for five minutes. He told them that Canada faced the most crucial winter of its history. Each man in training had a job to do, and that was to help "beat Hitler." He had inspected the various camps of Canada, and had found a spirit in each, Nanaimo included, which was different from that shown in the usual two-week summer training camp, where in the past the men came much in the spirit of play. This time, in all camps, there was a spirit of work, hard training and hard work. It was the spirit he liked. He liked to see troops in their working clothes.

"I think you are doing your job," he said, "and I hope you will continue to do it after you go back to your civilian occupations. I hope you will keep fit and in training." He thanked the officers who were taking time off to train troops, and particularly the veterans of the last war who were setting such a good example, and also the men who had left well-paid civilian jobs to help out. "We are not only behind you while you are doing this job," he said, "but we will see that you get equipment, and we will see that you receive everything necessary to carry on until the end."

PLEASSED WITH CAMP

He was, he said, highly pleased with the campsite, and the camp itself. He made no reference to a permanent camp being established here, and concluded with wishing the troops "success and good luck." Later he said that a decision as to the permanency of the camp would be made in a few days.

During inspection Colonel Ralston walked among the troops, the first man he spoke to being Private Allen, of the 5th B.C. Coast Brigade, R.C.A. Informed by the latter that he was in civil life, an employee of a wholesale firm in Victoria, Col. Ralston asked him how he liked military life and upon being told "it is fine" smiled and told the soldier he would get on.

The party left here by plane this afternoon for Saskatoon. The Minister was accompanied here by Col. A. A. McGee, senior executive assistant; Lt. Alan Chambers, M.P. Brig.-Gen. G. V. Stockwell, D.O.C., and Lt.-Col. J. H. Jenkins, G.S.O.—The party arrived from Victoria in a Royal Canadian Air Force plane in which the Minister is making a tour of Western Canada.

The Minister took the march past salute from details of the 2nd Battalion, B.C. Regiment, Duke of Cornwall's Own Rifles, the 2nd Battalion, Seaford Highlanders, the 5th Coast Battery, Royal Canadian

TRAWLERS TIED UP IN HARBOR

French Craft Loaded With Fish Unable to Reach Home Ports

ST. PIERRE ET MIQUELON, Sept. 13 (CP).—Twelve French fishing trawlers, their home markets cut off by the British blockade of the European coast, are riding at anchor in three small French possessions off the south coast of Newfoundland.

Since the French capitulation, France has been added to the territories blockaded by the Royal Navy, to insure that foodstuffs, or other commodities do not fall into the hands of Germany or Italy. There was some speculation recently that the catches of the French trawlers might be taken to the French West Indies possessions of Guadeloupe and Martinique.

Meanwhile, the twelve trawlers, loaded down with catches of fish, are tied up here, pending clarification by the Canadian and British Governments of the status of these islands.

Four French trawlers, with their catches, put in at an East Coast Canadian port after the French signed the armistice with Germany and Italy and they were taken over by the Canadian Government.

STOCKMEN ARE LUNCH GUESTS

B.C. Agricultural Association Plays Hosts to Exhibitors at Fair

Some eighty stockmen, many of them visitors from other provinces and the State of Washington, were guests of the B.C. Agricultural Association at a luncheon in the main restaurant at the Willows Exhibition yesterday. The visitors, who were exhibitors in the livestock division of the fair, were welcomed by Alderman D. D. McTavish, president of the association.

Representing Mayor Andrew McGavin, who was unavoidably absent, was Alderman T. W. Hawkins. He welcomed the guests on behalf of the city and expressed his delight at being able to attend the gathering and meet so many of the older exhibitors, as well as those of the younger generation.

On behalf of the city of Victoria, Alderman Hawkins presented medals of appreciation to Robert Thorburn and James Turner, for their long association with the provincial exhibition. He expressed the hope that they would be spared for many more years and would continue to be numbered among the exhibitors.

Mr. Turner, who is from Cadboro Bay, first showed at the exhibition forty-two years ago, while Mr. Thorburn, from Vancouver, entered his first stock thirty-seven years ago.

In his talk to the gathering, Alderman Hawkins said that Canada would play an important part in providing Britain with food, during the war, at least, and afterwards would be called upon to supply food for Europe's starving millions. He urged the men to carry on normal operations in spite of everything, and in the face of any obstacles.

Other speakers were J. B. Munro, deputy minister of agriculture, who extended a welcome to the exhibitors on behalf of the Provincial Government; R. A. Coleman, Lander, and E. J. T. Woodward, Albert Head.

HOSPITAL CASE IS ARBITRATED

Domestic Service Workers At Vancouver Institution Given Ruling

Domestic service ratings at St. Paul's Hospital, Vancouver, will be granted part of the adjustment in wages and working hours that they asked for before an arbitration board under the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act, according to an award filed yesterday with Hon. G. S. Pearson by the arbitration body.

The board was composed of George R. McQueen, chairman, Alfred H. Swetitsky, for the hospital, and W. J. Scriven, for the employees. Nursing staffs were not concerned in the application, which had been made to the board on behalf of domestic workers, janitorial and kitchen staffs at the institution. The employees asked for an increase in wages, for two weeks' holidays with pay, for confinement of work to eight hours in twelve on six days a week, with time and a half for overtime, an adjustment respecting meals and board, and recognition of the employees' organization as a bargaining agency.

The award, being studied here yesterday by the Department of Labor, is believed to grant a partial increase in wages to some of the categories mentioned, recognition of uniform and laundry allowances, an adjustment respecting meals and board, provision for a maximum of eight hours' work in twelve, a six-day week, with time and a half for overtime.

The full text of the findings includes salary schedules, including a number of different rates for different classes of work.

VICHY CABINET FACES DILEMMA

Italy Demands Demobilization of African Force—Germany Wants Cattle

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP).—The French Government was reported tonight to have turned down major demands from both Germany and Italy in diplomatic queries, here it was believed the future of the Vichy Government and unoccupied France might be vitally affected.

The Italians were said to have insisted on demobilization of all French troops in North Africa, estimated at about 200,000, fearing that a revolt against the Vichy regime might throw large reinforcements to the British forces in that region.

Germany, these sources said, called on the Vichy Government to surrender a food problem of its own in unoccupied France. The German plan was said to have been to send the livestock to Germany and slaughter it for meat.

The Vichy Government, faced with a food problem of its own in the unoccupied region and fearing that each concession would lead to still another demand, was understood to have rejected both the German and Italian proposals.

SEES MORE DIFFICULTIES

Whether negotiations are still under way on a more modest basis was not clear in the reports here, but some diplomatic sources forecast increased difficulties for the present Vichy Government.

The Vichy Government might be forced out, one well-informed source said, or Germany and Italian troops might extend their occupation to the whole of France or a greater part of it.

In this connection, significance was seen here in an Italian press campaign against the Vichy Government which the Popolo di Roma said lacked the ability to administer.

SIGNS OF ANXIETY

Hinting at the Italian anxiety over the situation in North Africa, the Rome paper said this French colony is developing a "scandalous" atmosphere, under the influx of what it called degenerate elements emigrating from Paris.

Tunisia borders Italian Libya on the west, Egypt is on the east. French troops in Tunisia, by breaking away from the Vichy Government and joining the De Gaulle forces allied with Britain, might strike against Libya and menace Italian troops from the rear in event of an Italian drive into Egypt, diplomatic observers pointed out.

After France's defeat, many French troops allied with British forces in Palestine and Syria were moved to North Africa. With revolting movements reported in various parts of French Africa, Italy was said to regard the French troops in North Africa as a serious menace to its whole military campaign in that area.

GERMAN BARBARITY

No evidence was needed to prove that the Germans are engaged in indiscriminate bombing of the civilian population of Great Britain. They have been dropping their bombs wherever and whenever they can and now they are singling out those non-military objectives the destruction of which they believe will strike hardest at the heart of the British Empire. This is illustrated by the deliberate attack on Buckingham Palace. There is no construction that can be put on this save a full purpose aimed at the lives of Their Majesties who so providentially escaped any injury. The occupants of the bomb who made this attempt must have been instructed as to their target. Similarly the dropping of bombs in Downing Street and its vicinity had as an objective the official residence of the Prime Minister. These happenings serve only to confirm the ruthless mentality that decrees German prosecution of the War. They should enlighten even those whose misanthropic of the issues of the War has been hitherto abysmal that this is a struggle on the part of the peoples of the British Empire to preserve the decencies of life and the amenities of civilization itself.

Germany has a satanic armament at work. It is doing its worst mightily, daily and nightly, seeking, by a policy of wholesale destruction, to administer a knockout blow to Great Britain. There is the expression in practice of a gospel of hate such as the world has never experienced, for in all previous wars there was at least some measure of immunity from attack for civilian populations. There is no such immunity in the German creed. Herr Hitler, like Barere, the French revolutionary, hates all that is British and would wipe the nation from the face of the globe. As Macaulay wrote of Barere so it might have been written of the German ruler. "The nation which has combined beyond all hope the blessings of liberty with those of order might well be the object of aversion to one who has been false alike to the cause of order and to the cause of liberty."

The small service which he could render to England was to hate her; and such as he may all who hate her be."

It is the argument of the German High Command that military necessity decrees barbarity. "Necessity," said William Pitt, who was Great Britain's Prime Minister at the time of a former threatened invasion, "is the argument of tyrants. It is the creed of slaves." A tempest of tyrannical rage has been let loose on London and other British cities, one of a character never encountered before. All rules of honorable warfare have been abandoned by the enemy; the sanctity of international law has gone by the board. It is the most evil thing humanity has ever known that the British Empire is fighting to conquer—the unleashed passions of a nation in their most diabolical form. "If," said Mr. Lloyd George, predicting what is happening, "the British people are worthy of their forefathers Britain will pass through this hurricane fearless and erect and will emerge from its rage mightier, more honored, and more powerful than ever for the good of mankind."

BRITISH VICTIMS OF BOMBING

Here, as in many other parts of the British Empire, there should be a Mayor's Fund to aid those people in London and other cities of Great Britain who are being rendered homeless by aerial bombardment and who have suffered the loss of so many of their earthly possessions. It has got to be remembered that the era of destruction is only in its initial stages, that it is conceivable that hundreds of thousands of families will suffer and that very large sums of money will be required for their rehabilitation. It may be admitted that primarily this duty rests with the British Government and the British municipal authorities. Those authorities have a stupendous task with which to cope as a result of bombing raids for, as well as private dwellings, public institutions are being destroyed or damaged and millions upon millions of pounds will be needed for rebuilding purposes.

It would be more than a gesture of good will for all the Empire to assist in repaying the damages and replacing the homes lost on the front where the freedom of that Empire is being defended. It would be a practical expression of the belief that there will always be an England, in the words of the most stirring of songs evoked by the war. Such a fund as could be raised for such a cause would be of the most material assistance to the British authorities. What is more it would be a renewed assurance that the peoples of the British domain, wherever they are, stand steadfastly and with invincible purpose alongside the Motherland in this her time of greatest trial when such suffering and calamity are heaped at the hands of an implacable and ruthless foe. Assistance in the rehabilitation of the homeless of Great Britain, as the Motherland bears the brunt of the War, will show with a new significance how the motto of the Empire is, "One for all and all for one."

A CHANGED OUTLOOK

It was the fighting in the Low Countries that preceded the evacuation of Dunkerque that brought a great change over the spirit of the Royal Air Force. Prior to that time, as the aeronautical correspondent of "The Times" points out, flying was regarded as "a gay adventure" and "grand fun." It was a youthful trial of prowess against an enemy whom one either respected or despised merely according to his standard of ability in the air. Now all that attitude has vanished. The flyers of the Royal Air Force saw German bombers and fighters machine-gunning helpless civilians, doing "vile things," saw these incidents multiplied a hundredfold. A change came over the spirit of their adventure. "Gone," says "The Times," "were the young men who flew for the thrill it gave them, and in their place were cold-eyed, determined pilots and air gunners bent upon the destruction of their foe."

"After Dunkerque," "The Times" continues, "the change became even more noticeable and more widespread. There was barely a squadron in the R.A.F. among whom more than one of their flying crews had not seen 'the enemy' machine-gunning British sailors, soldiers and airmen in the water after sinking their ships and small boats or as they waded out from the shore. This was not war as they understood it. It was hitting below the belt; it was altogether a rotten and loathsome thing. From that time onwards, no German airman has come within striking distance of a British aircraft without meeting a formidable enemy, determined, at whatever the cost, to destroy him. Just how this change of outlook has operated has been seen very clearly in the great battles over our convoys and over ports. It has been seen, too, in the deadly determination of our bombers to destroy the objectives in Germany which they have set out to bomb."

DEMANDS ON FRANCE

If reports are to be believed The Vichy Government has refused to yield up to Germany a considerable percentage of the livestock in unoccupied France and refusal has been made to the Italian Government to disarm the French soldiers in Northern African possessions of France. The refusal in both cases can be only temporary. Germany can go and get the livestock she wants; she can join Italy in bringing pressure upon Marshal Petain and his administration to secure disarmament in French possessions in Northern Africa. If Marshal Petain does not yield to the demands he will have to relinquish office and give place to someone more amenable to the direction of the Axis Powers. French liberty of action in any matter that displeases the conquerors is at an end. Marshal Petain himself says, "I do not pretend that this Government (that of Vichy) is free. The Germans hold the rope and twist it whenever they consider that the accord is not being carried out." There are gathering indications that the Nazis are considering taking over the government of all France.

MRS. F. B. PEMBERTON

Those who cast their minds back to the years of the Great War will recall the many patriotic activities in which the late Mrs. F. B. Pemberton engaged and how she did so with an enthusiasm which many were proud to attempt to emulate during that time of stress. Her sudden passing will come as a shock to a large coterie of friends for she had lived here for nearly half a century. She was of pioneering stock, her father having been a Chief Factor of the Hudson's Bay Company. Many sorrows had entered into her life and among these was the loss of two sons in the Great War. A lady of wide sympathies she was artistic by nature and was known in the years long gone by as a concert singer and as one keenly interested in paintings and drawings. Possessed of a nature kindly and sympathetic and keenly alive to many matters affecting the welfare of her fellows, she will be widely missed by all who knew her, and their number is large because of her long residence here. Very deep sympathy will go out to her widower, her son, daughters and grandchildren who survive and who will mourn one who knew and practised so many of the virtues of the domestic hearth.

DELIVERANCE FROM DANGER

When we look back upon the great things which God hath done for us, and our former deliverances out of dangers and difficulties, which to us appeared insurmountable, experience breeds hope; and when we consider how, in the midst of all our sorrows and troubles, the Lord our God hath lightened our eyes with the desirable and beautiful sight of His own glory in His temple, we take it for an argument that He hath yet done and will do for us, and that towards us. He hath lifted up our enemies, that their fall may be the greater, and that He may cast them down into desolation for ever. Arise and let us be doing. The Lord of Hosts is with us, the God of Jacob is our refuge!—Proclamation of the General Assembly, 1645.

Note and Comment

By SANDHAM GRAVES

"Want I knew a burglar."

It was Shamus Macool speaking. I found him in my seat, with his feet up on the desk when I returned from lunch. He eyed me coolly, as if I would turn him out. But I didn't. It's quicker to hear a Macool the first time. I took another look and nodded. Shamus crossed his feet the other way, glanced over the headlines in the paper I had brought in, and began.

"I met him in a quiet way. It was on the Somme in the last war. There had been a bit of a show, or a show, or something. We had pushed Fritz out of one set of shell holes, and he had showed us out of another. There wasn't anything more holes there, anyway, and no line to minton. The shell barrage got all tangled up in the confusion. Every man kind of a hole, and stayed there. After a while someone put a shell in the general's sack, and the shell stopped."

"It was terrible country, the Somme, boy. All you could see for miles was a sea of brown crater rims to edge, with bits of wire strung around some of them. I took a crack at the jump of a mine with me rifle, and got back a Heine hand-grenade, but it didn't go off. 'Ye murdering Hun,' I shouted. With that, a head popped up in the hole, and there was me friend the burglar. I have never been so glad to meet a man before nor since," said Shamus, chuckling.

Macool took his feet down from the desk and refilled his pipe leisurely. When the smoke was curling up placidly again, he resumed.

"Well, boy, we got together. His hole was a bit larger and more comfortable than mine, so I went over. Nayther as us knew where the line was, and to tell the truth, we were not worrying. It was good to have company in that sort of a place. He was a fine fellow, a burglar. He was a fine fellow, that. He had his pride, too. None of this sneaking in at back doors and reaching through unlocked windows for him. He was a second-class soldier, boy."

"The things he told me wouldn't believe, boy. He said he had buried a lot in the West End of London at war time in his life before he gave up the profession. There wasn't anything left in it. He had a big silver plate in his cupboard, and maybe was or two pieces of sham jewelry on their dressers. The houses were old, and the floors squeaked, unless ye knew how to walk on them. Ye walk around the edges and never in the centre, boy. If there was a safe, there'd be nothing but a mortgage in it, and so on. Times were desperate hard."

"Most of the profession turned to the suburbs, where there was still some real silver and an occasional Heine hand-grenade, and a few Heine hand-grenades. He stayed on in London, hoping for the return of better days. War, night, he said, he was on the second floor of an old house on—'but I had better not tell ye the name of the street. Anyway, he was in, and had his open door, and when a Zeppelin dropped a bomb smack into the garden. Me friend didn't wait. He said if the Huns were that low, someone would have to teach them a lesson. So he joined up."

Macool paused and chuckled at the memory, shaking so that the blue smoke rose in rings from the bowl of his pipe.

"They made him a quarter-master, boy! Me friend said he never had so much worry in all his life. Every day he was out there, trying to get something from the stores that they shouldn't have. They didn't want to realize that it was all Government property, and that he was responsible for it. Me friend stood it as long as he could, but it spoiled him for his profession. He said he couldn't be much as look at a Webb belt afterwards without flinching. He asked to be transferred to the infantry, and that is where I met him." Macool finished.

"But how did you get out of the shell hole, Shamus?"

"Alay enough, boy. The two as we waited until it was dark and then we fessed a penny for it. Heads we'd walk away, and tails the other. The penny fell in the mid, and stayed on its edge. So we took the nearest path we could find, and started out. Prinsly, we heard voices, and they weren't speaking English, so we turned and went the other way. We came out all right."

"Me friend a month later got the D.C.M. for bringing in a German machine gun under fire. He told me he didn't exactly plan to do it, but something turned over inside as him, 'an' he couldn't bear to see property going to waste. To him it was war more than to turn on the fella who dropped the bomb in the garden," said Shamus Macool.

Hands Across Border

Called from Nick Kenny: "But just let some foreign invader attempt to storm Canada's shore, and over that line to our neighbor's defence America's fighters will pour." "Where you a participant in the last war," a visitor asked a veteran during a concert at a training camp near here. "No," he was blushing lance corporal, the old soldier replied. "Denver, Colo., has an ordinance of 1886 still on the city records. It provides a $100 fine for women who wear trousers. Some we have seen in slacks would cause a judge to fine them $500." Purdy's Cafe on Granville Street in Vancouver has an interesting picture of Bill Batchelor holding a 106-pound white spring salmon he caught in Gardiner Canal near Butedale in 1912. Now it is a big day if some bloke hauls out a thirty-pound minnow during an angling contest at Saanich-Inlet. "War is a costly enterprise. In England an officer's pistol costs $20 to $30, 100 rounds of rifle ammunition, $25, small trench mortar, $200; machine gun, $500; percussion mine, $750; sixteen-inch shell, $750; 100 army rifles, $3,500; light anti-aircraft gun, $15,000; heavy anti-aircraft gun, $18,000; pursuit plane, $50,000 to $65,000; heavy bomber, $100,000 to $125,000; and a destroyer, $2,000,000.—G.B."

B.C. PRAISED FOR RESPONSE

Province First in Canada With Welcome Extended To British Children

"The transfer of children from the Motherland to Canada is proceeding well, and we expect more to arrive in the near future," Dr. George P. Davidson, director of social welfare for the Province, said yesterday, on his return from Ottawa, where he has been acting as liaison officer for the nine provinces in connection with the plan.

There are now 1,467 children in Canada who have been brought out under the Government scheme, of whom 171 are already quartered in their new homes in British Columbia. "While accurate figures cannot be learned in advance, it is expected that this number will be augmented materially as the year proceeds. Discussing the plan, Dr. Davidson, who reached here on Tuesday, said:

"The scheme is going very well indeed. The children are receiving an excellent welcome, and are an unusually fine type of children. The offer of homes has been satisfactory, and we are pleased with the friendly public response in this connection. We feel certain that the children themselves will be the best advertisement. So far, British Columbia has taken the highest percentage of the children, according to population, mainly because our services were ready."

The arrival of the children is not known in advance. From time to time small parties make their way westward in Canada, going to homes ready and eager for their coming. The children are now in the Province, there are more homes than children to fill them. This condition, however, will change as the scheme proceeds, Dr. Davidson intimated.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily Colonist of September 14, 1890)

Changes at Esquimalt—H.M.S. Amphion will leave Esquimalt station about the end of the present month, her destination being most probably China. This is the present understanding. Victorians will particularly miss this favorite vessel, whose officers and crew have been kind, courteous and gentlemanly in their conduct and attention to any citizen who ever visited the ship. This is not the only change contemplated at Esquimalt. The Wasp, the Champion and Esquimaux will go to Cebu and the Amphion will be sent to Honolulu. It is expected that the Daphne will be the only ship that will winter here.

Cod Fishing—The schooner Arago has arrived at San Francisco after a passage of eighteen days from Sandpoint, Alaska. The Arago has Capt. J. H. O'Brien in charge. The ship has been kind, courteous and gentlemanly in their conduct and attention to any citizen who ever visited the ship. This is not the only change contemplated at Esquimalt. The Wasp, the Champion and Esquimaux will go to Cebu and the Amphion will be sent to Honolulu. It is expected that the Daphne will be the only ship that will winter here.

Fruit Growers' Association—The directors of the B.C. Fruit Growers' Association will hold their annual meeting at Chilliwack on Thursday evening, September 18. A. H. B. Macgowan is the acting secretary.

Y.M.C.A. BEGINS WINTER SEASON

Offers Many Opportunities To Both Civilians and Enlisted Men

Commencing Monday, September 16, the Y.M.C.A. in Victoria will begin the Fall season's activities for the youth and the enlisted men in the city.

A programme of activities that will include all types of physical culture classes, hobby organizations, and facilities proffered the enlisted men here, are included in the agenda for the year.

Active in both war and peace-time, the Y.M.C.A. plays an important part in the life of youth and soldier. In the war, the Y.M.C.A. offers many facilities to the men, in providing comforts, comfort huts, reading and writing facilities, religious services, and donating bed and sometimes board, to the men who are awaiting enlistment. In the past year, the Y.M.C.A. has had over 1,000 men avail themselves of the many services.

ATTENTION TO YOUTH
To the youth of the city, the Y.M.C.A. offers the opportunity to the leads to make the transition from home to group life under the best auspices, enabling them to take their place in society in an able manner. The classes are divided so that boys of every age are kept to their own age groups. Gymnasium instruction and swimming lessons are given all who care to take them. The Y.M.C.A. is notable in the manner in which they turn out champions in almost every sphere of physical activity.

One of the great movements of recent years is the Hi-Y, where key boys and faculty advisers consult and work for school ideals and character building projects, guided by the Y.M.C.A. boys' secretary.

HELPFUL ORGANIZATION

An idea of the many services rendered by the organization in the past year may be gained by noting that 1,150 free night lodgings were given to deserving young men temporarily up against adverse circumstances, to men seeking work, to strangers in difficulty and to men awaiting enlistment; 547 free showers and swims were given to unemployed men during the year; 219 club meetings were held, with 2,514 attendances; 2,379 sessions of physical activity were held in the past twelve months, with 35,368 attendances.

The members of the Y.M.C.A. swimming clubs, embracing both boys and girls, hold dozens of provincial titles, serving from the west Y.M.C.A. titles, and one Western Canada championship. The past year was the second largest year experienced by the popular Camp Thunderbird. One hundred and two different boys spent their lives to that we in far away British Columbia can live in peace and comfort. Nothing is too good for them.

WAR SERVICES

Up to date, eighty-nine members of the Y.M.C.A. have joined His Majesty's forces, which is a substantial contribution, being more than half the young men division. In connection with army and navy activities, the Y.M.C.A. has provided food and service buildings all across Canada, with 1,234,271 men taking advantage of their opportunities. In addition, the organization maintains service centres abroad, including station information booths, the famous Beaver Club in London, and hundreds of war services are supplied gratis elsewhere.

More so than in peacetime, the young people of the country are needing greater attention than ever before in these times of stress. The opportunity of the Y.M.C.A. are open to all, with the Fall session beginning next Monday.

PARCELS CANNOT GO TO PRISONERS

Service Permitted by International Law Has Been Suspended For a While

OTTAWA, Sept. 13 (CP).—Transmission of parcels to prisoners of war in Germany has been suspended temporarily, Hon. Vincent Massey, Canadian High Commissioner to the United Kingdom, said in a message to Lt.-Col. H. Stetson, director of the prisoners of war information bureau.

Sending of such parcels, arranged by the British Red Cross, which mails the parcels through the International Red Cross committee at Geneva, Switzerland, are likely to be resumed shortly, it was stated, and the sending of official Red Cross parcels to prisoners is continuing.

Until further notice, postoffices will not be able to accept parcels which relatives are permitted, by international law, to mail to prisoners of war.

JERSEY MILITIA

Sir—I know there must be many people of Jersey, Channel Island stock, in Victoria who will be interested in this letter. I heard yesterday from my sister-in-law, who is also my cousin, in Ryde, I.W. telling me she had adopted a platoon of the Royal Jersey Militia, who are stationed there. The platoon consists of six men, who on their leave afternoon come to her house for a bath, change of underwear and socks, and a good tea.

My little maid of fifteen washes, irons and mends. This is her share of war work.

The poor lads are so grateful for the little we can do for them, as they have not heard from their people in Jersey, and don't know what has happened to them, since those monsters have invaded their country.

I am wondering if any of the Jersey people now would help by sending knitted socks, underwear or sugar or butter. I am sending the two latter, as I realize she must feel it a great strain feeding so many men, as she is a widow on limited means. Her address is as follows: Mrs. E. Hurlock Watson, O.B.E., "Wendover," Ryde, I.W. I am sure she would be glad to hear, and perhaps some of the platoon may have friends here and would be only too thankful to hear from them.

One Jersey friend here tells me she will send underwear. I am making arrangements for butter and sugar to be sent, and I have told my sister I would be glad to adopt a platoon. I feel we cannot do enough to show our gratitude to those wonderful men who are giving their lives to that we in far away British Columbia can live in peace and comfort. Nothing is too good for them.

CHEERING THE TROOPS

Sir—On Monday hundreds of our soldiers marched through the streets of Victoria. It was well advertised beforehand in our papers. My wife and I went to see them and we felt very proud of our splendid brave men, ready and willing to fight for us. We were amazed at the lack of cheering and hand-clapping. Several times we clapped as they went by and it seemed as if we

Professional Engineers of Ontario Admits Vancouver Woman to Association

TORONTO, Sept. 13 (CP)—Elizabeth M. G. MacGill, chief aeronautical engineer of the Canadian Car & Foundry Company at Fort William, has been admitted to membership in the Association of Professional Engineers of the Province of Ontario, the first woman in Canada to be so registered.

Announcement of Miss MacGill's admission to membership in the association was made today by W. McKay, secretary-treasurer of the organization.

Miss MacGill has the distinction of being the first and only woman of Canada, and perhaps of the world, to have designed a new and successful type of airplane, known as the "Maple Leaf Trainer" II. It was designed as a primary training machine.

She is an associate member of the Engineering Institute of Canada and at the institute's February convention here she read a paper on "Practical Forms of Flight Test Reporting."

Miss MacGill is the daughter of J. H. MacGill, Vancouver barrister. Her mother is judge of the Juvenile Court. Miss MacGill is a graduate of applied science in electrical engineering from the University of Toronto, a master of science in engineering from the University of Michigan and has taken two years post-graduate study at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology leading toward a doctorate degree.

Popular Local Yachtsman Is Listed Missing

Peter Hincks, one of the most popular younger members of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club, on service with the Royal Navy, has been listed "missing and believed to have been killed" according to a cable received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Reginald N. Hincks, of Tudor Avenue, Ten Mile Point.

Twenty-one years of age, young Hincks had just attained his majority when he left Victoria in March last with a detachment of the R.C.N.V.R. After reaching England he was transferred to the submarine branch of the British naval service, and was on active duty in one of the auxiliary vessels when reported missing.

Raised and educated in Victoria, young Peter Hincks was well known as a sportsman, being particularly keen on yachting, and owned and skippered the sailing dinghy Onaway. He was a member of the second detachment of the R.C.N.V.R. that left here for service overseas.

Prior to joining the navy, he was a member of the staff of the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

FISHERMEN GET BETTER PRICES

Men Engaged in Halibut Landings Enjoy Bigger Revenues This Year

PRINCE RUPERT, Sept. 13 (CP)—Although the first year of the war did not restore the fabulous earnings made by fishermen in the closing years of the first Great War and the period immediately following, it has brought better revenue to those engaged in halibut fishing than they have enjoyed during the past few years. It was stated today by officials of the industry.

Again, however, the uneconomic feature was the short fishing season due to the limitation measures of an international agreement.

From the price standpoint, officials said, there was nothing to complain about concerning the halibut fishing industry this year. It was estimated landings here would be greater by more than 1,500,000 pounds this year than the 1939 figure.

In regard to the salmon industry, officials in Prince Rupert district report a fairly good season due to a good run of sockeye. Prices, however, were not as high as fishermen had anticipated.

LITTLE PROFIT

Seining, with a light run of pinks and chums, was below par and fishermen reported very little profit in this department.

Trotting started off slowly in the district and although there was a measure of improvement in late summer, it cannot be stated that the season was as satisfactory as it might have been.

The halibut and fishing season will end the last week in September and at present there seems to be no reason to anticipate anything more than the normal measure of winter fishing in seining for herring for reduction purposes and possibly a slight increase in shell fishing activity.

Explaining Some Defensive Equipment

Ratings from the Royal Navy are shown above listening intently as a brother sailor of the United States Navy explains the workings of some of the defensive equipment on an overage United States destroyer, one of many being transferred to the Royal Navy. A number of these destroyers arrived in Eastern Canadian ports prior to being officially handed over to their new owners.

SHELLED MEN IN LIFEBOATS

Lascar Seaman Picked Up After Drifting About For Six Days

HALIFAX, Sept. 13 (CP)—Wounded when his ship, a British tanker, was torpedoed in the Atlantic by an enemy submarine, Victor Abraham, forty-three-year-old Lascar seaman, is in hospital here today, recovering from his injuries and the effect of six days spent in an open boat with two dead companions.

Abraham, a native of Ceylon, told newspapermen his story last night in halting, broken English. Only twenty-nine men of a crew of forty-two were able to get into the lifeboats when the ship was torpedoed, he said. Their fate is still unknown to him.

The submarine shelled the men in the lifeboats, Abraham said, and the two in the boat with him were seriously injured. They died later.

Two days after the ship sank a storm arose and the lifeboats parted. Abraham's companions died and he was too weak from his wounds, shock and hunger to move the bodies.

"Six days I was in the boat," he said. "I had one bit of salt—a ship biscuit—I had no water. Then a boat came and picked me up and brought me here."

SHIPS TRAVEL UNDER LICENCE

Offence for Canadians to Furnish "Privileges" to Boats Lacking Permits

OTTAWA, Sept. 13 (CP)—A regulation to prevent Canadians from dealing with or assisting unauthorized ships calling at Canadian ports was announced today by Revenue Minister Gibson in a statement.

The regulation makes it an offence to furnish either at a Canadian seaport or on the high seas "privileges" to any ship not possessed of a "ship's privilege licence" issued by or on behalf of the commissioner of customs, Hugh D. Scully.

"Privilege" includes practically all goods supplied or services rendered to vessels, particularly fuel, ship's stores, water, repair facilities, insurance, charts, cable communication facilities and money.

The necessary licences will be issued through the collectors of customs at the different ports. Decisions on whether ships are granted or refused licences will be made by the commissioner of customs in consultation with the Canadian Shipping Board. The new regula-

Local Boatbuilding Plant to Construct Two Service Vessels

Two service boats will be built by Armstrong Brothers for the Dominion Government, it was announced by Robert Armstrong, of the local firm of boatbuilders, yesterday.

The order was placed by D. B. Crawford, director of shipbuilding, Ottawa.

A start on the boats will be made immediately. They will be forty-five feet long and powered with three-cylinder sixty-horsepower Victoria Diesel engines. The specifications call for fir planking to be used for hulls, and hardwood for the stems and stern posts. It is expected the boats will be ready for commissioning in four months.

INAUGURATES NEW SERVICE

First Passengers En Route From San Francisco To Auckland

When the American Clipper took off from Treasure Island, San Francisco, on Wednesday, she had aboard the first commercial passengers ever to fly from the United States to the Antipodes. The flight—the fifth bi-weekly trip over the new San Francisco-Auckland route by way of Los Angeles, Honolulu, Canton and Noumea—will complete the opening of air service for passengers, mail and express to the lands down under and closes a strategic gap in the network of aerial trade routes which link the United States and all countries of the Western Hemisphere with China across the North Pacific and with Europe across the North Atlantic.

The Clipper service reduces the travel time to New Zealand from seventeen days by steamer on a once-a-month schedule to approximately four and one-half days every two weeks. The passenger list included fourteen persons who are making the aerial journey to Auckland, while a number of reservations were made for intermediate points.

The majority of the passengers for Auckland are first-flight patrons. The American Clipper was scheduled to make overnight stops at Honolulu, Canton Island and New Caledonia, and is due to reach her destination tomorrow.

Departures from Treasure Island for New Zealand are scheduled for Saturdays, but this week the American Clipper's trip was set for Wednesday because of weather delays to inbound planes. The next flight to the South Pacific will leave on Saturday, September 21.

Stole Pay of Longshoremen

VANCOUVER, Sept. 13 (CP)—City police today are looking for the man who yesterday collected the pay cheques of five longshoremen totalling $36, by means of a trick. The man appeared at the pay office of the Union Steamship Company with a note containing the names of the five who, he said, asked him to draw their pay for them.

Medical Officer: Yes, there is something the matter with you! How do you sleep?

Recruit: Thirty in a hut, sir! I said it was too many!

ARRANGES FOR CRUISER RACE

Fleet Captain James Promises Interesting Event For Tomorrow

The final auxiliary cruiser race of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club's yachting year has been organized by Club Fleet Captain R. V. James. It will be sailed tomorrow morning, and yachts will cross the starting line at 10:30 o'clock.

The course selected for this event is northerly around Big Zero and Little Zero spar buoys, leaving all marks to port, with the finishing line in Cadboro Bay off the clubhouse.

Fleet Captain James points out that the entire course the yachts will sail is visible from vantage places on and around Gordon Head; besides it will furnish fine competition, since several of the club's veteran skippers, active in former yacht club regattas, will be at the helms of racing craft.

The following boats, with their skippers, are assured entrants in tomorrow's event: Minto, Mrs. G. Campbell; Dorothy, Major W. H. Langley; Loo, A. D. Crease; La-longa, Fleet Captain R. V. James; We Too, Major J. C. Cook; Shangri-la, T. Hallett; Blue Wave, Admiral J. L. Hallett; C. Percival, Captain R. S. Johnson; Davaar, N. P. Blandy.

Junior members of the club are asked to stand by at the clubhouse today for crew assignments in the above race.

Today's events on the club's racing and cruising fixtures include crew races in the small classes, the starting gun to be fired at 3 p.m.

GAVE RISE TO SPECULATION

Movements of Six French War Vessels Still Shrouded In Mystery

GIBRALTAR, Sept. 13 (CP)—British naval authorities announced last night three French cruisers and three destroyers had passed Gibraltar, Wednesday, westbound into the Atlantic, but did not disclose destination of the vessels.

The destroyers were listed as the Audaceux, Le Malin and Le Fantastique, and the cruisers as the Gloire, Montcalm and Georges Leygues.

Dispatches Wednesday from Casablanca, Morocco directly across from Gibraltar, said three destroyers and three cruisers flying the French flag had passed westward through the straits that day, unimpeded by British batteries. The report could not then be confirmed.

This gave rise to speculation that French naval units, which have been tied up at the French naval base since the French-German armistice might have fled to join the British fleet.

Nieuw Amsterdam Steams Away for Undisclosed Port

NEW YORK, Sept. 13 (CP)—Bound for an undisclosed port—presumably to become a troopship—the $15,000,000 Holland-America flag ship Nieuw Amsterdam today was on the high seas after an unannounced departure from New York harbor last night. Chartered to the British Ministry of Shipping, the 36,387-ton craft, which made her maiden voyage to America less than two years ago, carried no cargo or passengers. The liner flew the flag of The Netherlands.

Designed to carry 1,232 passengers and a crew of 650, her eleven decks could be reconverted to ferry many more troops across the Atlantic. She has a service speed of twenty-one and a half knots, and is 713 feet long.

SENTIMENT IN SYRIA CHANGES

Resentment Against Italians Seeking Disarmament Is Running High

CAIRO, Sept. 13 (CP).—The French national committee in Syria said yesterday that a "tremendous change of sentiment" in Syria is taking place. Gen. Charles De Gaulle and his "free Frenchmen" are continuing the war has taken place since arrival of the Italian armistice mission there.

"Resentment against Italian efforts to disarm Syria is running high," a spokesman for the committee said.

"An explosion may come at any moment," he added.

"Thirty resolute officers could probably swing the balance at this moment."

BADLY RECEIVED

"The mission has been badly received by Syria, Lebanese and French alike," he said.

The Italian committee in the Syrian capital, Damascus, is being treated as a group of foreign legionnaires, according to reports received.

Bitterness especially was engendered by the French conviction that Italy, though first to arrive for the spoils, did not defeat France and never could have it was said.

The committee also regards the mission's pressure for disarmament of French Syrian forces as an attempt to win an easy victory.

"The Italians can force no large force by sea in Syria," he said, "because the British fleet stands between them and Syria. But if they get the country disarmed they will be able to land enough men by air to take control. That's why they are working from within," the committee spokesman said.

An Italian occupation of Syria would be followed, it is feared, by a thrust at the Mosul oil fields, just across the frontier in Iraq, to cut off the main oil supply of Britain in the Near East.

"TURNABOUT" AT CAPITOL TODAY

Carole Landis and John Hubbard Given Tricky Assignments In New Comedy

Never have two young players been given trickier roles than Carole Landis and John Hubbard in Hal Roach's "Turnabout," which will open at the Capitol Theatre today.

As Sally and Tim Willows, they reverse positions in life—rather, the god Ram effects the miracle by a stroke of metaphysical skulduggery. Consequently, for a large part of the picture, Hubbard must act like a woman and Landis like a man.

They studied each other's mannerisms carefully. Miss Landis showed Hubbard how to mince into a drawing-room, bounce out of a bedroom in high dudgeon and powder his nose. Hubbard laughed, Carole how to shadow box, how to stretch and yawn like a machine, and the male technique in bolting food.

FALL TERM OPENS AT VOICE SCHOOL

Students Enroll for Autumn Classes at Victoria School of Expression

The Victoria School of Expression opened for the fall term on September 12. This institution was founded in 1925 by Mrs. Wilfred Ord and its reputation has been built upon the sound foundation of good work accomplished by its students.

Through the many festival and examination successes are useful as indicating the high standard reached, yet it is desired to stress that beautiful and artistic work is being done by many in the school who do not care for competition, but study for private reasons. The same meticulous care is given to these students. Naturally the work appeals to all who desire the best in speech or voice production, either for themselves or their children. There are so many people today who know that no educational advantage is more valuable than the ability to speak well.

To children the training insures all-round development, improving physical, mental and spiritual capacity, that no naturally all-ordinary school subjects improve. To adults in any of the speaking professions, effective speech is of the first importance.

The following were the winners of the 1940-41 season in the Victoria School of Expression:

W. J. Kilby, D. Anderson, C. Webb, C. Smith, C. Thornton, D. Cross, C. Cottell, F. Morrison, J. Blackwood, W. McKinnon, P. Barr, T. Bradley, R. W. Nunn, W. Peddie, H. Sloan and D. Caille all officers and members of Division 109, Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees of America, of which Mr. Torrance was a member. Inquest was in the family plot in Ross Bay Cemetery.

ITALIAN CHARGED IN POLICE COURT

Sebastiano Toscano alias Errico Episto was charged in the city police court yesterday with failing to register under the National Registration Act and remanded until this morning by Magistrate Henry C. Hall.

Miss E. H. M. Thornycroft, who appeared for the accused, stated that Toscano spoke Italian, but was difficult to understand. She entered a plea of guilty on behalf of her client.

Through Balda Zarelli, an interpreter, Toscano declared that he had first entered Canada in 1907 and had registered as an alien but did not know that he had to register a second time.

THOMAS TORRANCE IS LAID AT REST

A profusion of beautiful floral tributes and a large congregation of sorrowing friends marked the funeral held yesterday afternoon from the Thomson Funeral Home for Thomas Torrance. Peter Smart conducted the impressive service at the chapel. Mr. McDonald taking the service at the graveside. The hymns sung were "Rock of Ages" and "Forever With the Lord." At

Official of Y.W.C.A. to Visit Here

The forthcoming visit of Miss Julia Matoukova, of the National Council staff of the Y.W.C.A., was announced at a meeting of the board of directors of the local Y.W.C.A. yesterday afternoon at the association building, Dr. Olga Jardine, the president, in the chair.

Miss Matoukova will be in Victoria from November 1 to 6. She is vice-president of the Y.W.C.A. World's Council, the headquarters of which were moved from Geneva to Washington, D.C., three months ago. She was also general secretary of the Y.W.C.A. in Czechoslovakia, and is now on the Canadian Y.W.C.A. national staff, and has been chiefly responsible for the promotion of the general programme in adult and religious education.

Mrs. May B. Cushing, general secretary of the Y.W.C.A., referred to the World Council meetings held in Canada in September, 1938, when delegates attended from over thirty countries, and she compared this with the sad silences which have fallen upon the work in so many countries since then, leaving many responsibilities for the members to carry on where freedom still exists.

Reports were given of the Summer activities and plans made for the Fall and Winter work. The senior clubs' council is making preparations for the opening night on September 26. During the Summer the Y.W.C.A. members have been hostesses to the men of the three services at bi-monthly dances and weekly Sunday afternoon teas with musical programmes. These will be continued during the Winter. It is planned to extend the rooms registry service for the benefit of the wives and families of the men.

In connection with the "Travelers' aid and personal counselling department," information will be given with reference to facilities in the city of special interest and benefit to men of the services and their families. Clubs and interest groups are open to the younger wives who will be in the city for any indefinite period.

The average girl would rather have beauty than brains because she knows that the average man can see much better than he can think.

NEW OPERATING THEATRE OPENS

Dedication of Addition to Esquimalt Military Hospital Held Recently

Dedication of a new operating theatre in Esquimalt Military Hospital, Work Point Barracks, took place a few days ago in the presence of a representative gathering of military officials. Among those present were Brigadier C. V. Stockwell, D.S.O., D.O.C.; Lieut.-Col. A. L. Jones, O.B.E., M.C., D.M.O.; Lieut.-Col. W. H. K. Anderson, D.S.O.; Major L. H. A. R. Thurgard and members of the hospital medical staff. Matron M. Cavanagh and her nursing staff; Honorary Major the Rev. W. H. Jackson, district chaplain, and Honorary Captain the Rev. Alan Gardiner, chaplain.

The ceremony was quite simple, the district medical officer, Colonel A. L. Jones, on behalf of the surgeons, nurses and staff, making formal request for the setting apart of the operating unit "forever to the greater glory of God and to the healing of the sick," after which the chaplain proceeded to dedicate the place with special prayers.

Practically all the military doctors and their wives and several members of the regular medical profession and their wives were present. The Red Cross was represented by Lieut.-Col. R. S. Worsley. Following the services, tea was served in an ante room of the hospital.

The new operating theatre, which is attached to the hospital which just within recent years replaced the old hospital destroyed by fire, is thoroughly up to date in equipment and accommodation, and Major Huggard, the head surgeon, performed his first operation in it just a few days prior to the formal opening last Sunday afternoon.

WILL SPEAK ON WAR PROBLEMS

Dr. J. B. Rowell to Begin New "Eye-Opener" Lecture Series Tuesday

"Why does God allow war? Present-day problems in the light of Scripture. Relation of man to Satan and to God. Understanding the Bible." is the title of the third message in the series to be given in the Central Baptist Church by the pastor, Rev. Dr. J. B. Rowell, on Sunday evening, speaking on the perplexing question, "The mystery of sin: Why should it be permitted in God's universe?"

At the morning service, he will continue the series entitled "The Promised Land for Believers—Romans Eight," the message being "The believer's responsibility to the sovereignty of the Holy Spirit." The Lord's Supper will be observed at the close of the service.

"Eye-Opener" lectures—"Looking at Things as They Are," will be a new feature at the Central Baptist Church commencing Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. The opening lecture is entitled, "In Britain's crisis hour! Art thou for us, or for our adversaries?" The Vatican and Canada. Among the questions to be answered by Dr. Rowell are the following: "Does the Vatican stand with Britain?" "Why does Ottawa recognize the Vichy Government?" "What does Canada's choice between Britain and Gen. de Gaulle imply?"

These informative lectures are open to the public. The church doors will be open at 7 o'clock.

"Substance" To Be Theme This Sunday

"Substance" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday. The golden text is, "If we hope for that which we see not, then do we with patience wait for it" (Romans viii, 25).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "For whomsoever I will, to him shall be given, and he shall have more abundance; but whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken away even that he hath" (Matt. xiii, 12).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "How true it is that whatever is learned through material sense must be lost because such so-called knowledge is reversed by the spiritual facts of being in Science. That which material sense calls intangible is found to be substance. What to material sense seems substance, becomes nothingness, as the sense-dream vanishes and reality appears."

Favorites Beaten On Heavy Track at Willows Enclosure

Heavily-Backed Thoroughbreds Unable to Get Down in Front—Happy Dinah Wins Handicap—Camp Spur Pays $38.40—Good Programme Today—Large Crowd Expected

A slow, heavy racing strip, gradually drying-out after Wednesday's downpour, upset the dope sheet for the majority of the punters yesterday at the Willows, as Victoria's 1940 meet passed its sixth day.

Favorites took another sound trouncing in the majority of the events, with Happy Dinah, winner of the sixth event, the Mount Douglas Handicap, saving the heavily-backed bangtails from complete defeat.

Today's feature will be the Navy, Army and Air Force Handicap at one-mile. The event has drawn many of the top speedsters stabled at the local racing plant and promises to be one of the best gallops of the meet.

Heading the overnighters is Some Tukey, winner of the Saanich and Mount Talmie Handicaps, who will be out for her third straight victory. The Simon, thoroughbred has been given top impost of 119 pounds. Other probable starters include Contributor, Maid of Broke, Patience, Green Tea, Golden Fold, Sahara, Green, Telius, Heret and Flying Heret.

Racing officials announced yesterday that a silver cup, donated by Sid Beech, Vancouver sportsman, will go to the winning stable.

Members of His Majesty's forces in uniform will be guests of the racing association today and, with prospects of a record-breaking attendance, officials have made special arrangements to handle the large crowd.

Eight events, seven flat races and the hurdles on the racing strip, will round out a good programme. First post time is 1:45 o'clock.

Freddy Wood Wins $1,000 Open Event At Capilano Links

Vancouver Golf Professional Takes First Money in Western Canada Tournament With Card of 283 — Neil Christian Finishes Second and Ken Black Is Third—Victorians Well Down

CAPILANO GOLF AND COUNTRY CLUB, WEST VANCOUVER, Sept. 13 (CP).—Freddy Wood, blond professional star from the Fraser Club at Vancouver, today won first money in the Western Canada $1,000 open golf championship. He carded 283 for the seventy-two-hole medal competition.

Neil Christian, Yakima, Wash., professional, tied with Wood at the halfway mark yesterday, stroked his way to second place with a 284, while Kenny Black, of Vancouver, Canadian amateur champion, finished third with 285.

Wood, British Columbia and Alberta open champion, added a mediocre 74 this morning to his 137 total of yesterday, then came back this afternoon with a par 72. Christian added a 75-72 to his 137 of yesterday, while Black shot 72-73 to add to his 140 thirty-six-hole total.

A storm last night made the course heavy and the players had trouble on nearly all the greens.

Harry Givan, Seattle shotmaker, and winner of the British Columbia amateur title here earlier this year, finished in fifth place behind Stan Leonard, Calgary professional, with 290. He carded 148 yesterday and 89-73-142 today.

Leonard, formerly of Vancouver, who won the Canadian professional championship at Toronto last month, added a 75-69 to his 145 of yesterday for fourth place with 289.

Chuck Congdon, of Tacoma, who finished in fourth spot at yesterday's halfway mark, dropped to sixth place when play ended today with 293. He carded a 77-72 to add to his 144.

Emery Zimmerman, of Portland, former Washington State open champion; Bob Connolly, of Seattle, and Don Sutherland, of Vancouver, were all tied for seventh place with 297; while Ken Tucker, Washington State champion from Tacoma, was next with 153-74-74-301.

Don Thompson, of Portland, recent winner of the Jasper National Park golf tournament, was away out of the money with his 149-84-75-309.

Walter Spaven, of Victoria, added 83 to his 162 yesterday for 326, while Fred Painter, also from the capital city and assistant professional at Jasper Park during the past summer, finished with 156-78-79-313.

Jimmy McLarin, former world's welterweight boxing champion from Vancouver, who is now living in Hollywood, finished with 323.

Nickason, His Manager and Trainer

round top scrap. Members of His Majesty's Forces are sharing billings on the card with visiting and local boxers. First bout is scheduled for 8:30 o'clock. There has been a brisk demand for pasteborders, and indications point to the spacious auditorium at the Willows being well filled when the first fighters climb into the ring to start throwing leather in the evening's opener.

palace plumbers, who were injured slightly while at work in the south wing. The damage to the palace was believed to be considerable. Two of the bombs fell in the great inner quadrangle. A third smashed the little private chapel in the south wing where the little Princesses were christened, scattering and ripping asunder its solid gold altar service and crimson silk furniture.

RAIDER SCORES HITS ON PALACE

The damage and the King told a handful of Was. Catholics and people. Like so many other people, we now have had a personal experience of German barbarity, which only strengthens the resolution of all of us to fight through to final victory. Then with the Queen he left for another tour of London's bombed East End.

Earlier this week a corner of Buckingham Palace, where the Royal swimming pool is located, was blasted by a time bomb dropped by raiders last Sunday.

LONDON'S REACTION

London's reaction to the news that the home of their King and Queen was damaged and the sovereign driven to their shelter to escape Nazi bombs was one of relief that Their Majesties were unharmed. The second and strongest reaction was one of anger at the daring daylight dive-bombing raid. Early evening editions had the news in the stop press section. Final editions splashed the story. The Evening Standard headline was "King and Queen escape as bombs hit palace." The News said "Five bombs on the palace today." and The Star, "Buckingham Palace bombed again today."

The little Princesses, Elizabeth and Margaret Rose, were not in the palace.

SLIGHT CASUALTIES

The only casualties were three airmen and the Norderney seaplane base.

Hit in these key centres, said the ministry, was a network of railway junctions and freight yards in Western Germany "which must play an important part in any attempted invasion of Britain."

FIRE AND EXPLOSIONS

Docks, shipping and oil reservoirs at Emden and docks at Flushing in The Netherlands were raided and fires and explosions followed as the R.A.F. unloaded its bombs. Referring to the key points bombed the Air Ministry said: "Troops, reserves, equipment and supplies moving westwards to the Channel ports from Germany must pass through one or the other of these key transportation points."

Betty Jameson and Marion Miley to Meet Today For Golf Crown

SEATTLE, Sept. 13 (CP).—Sterling displays by two of the United States leading women golfers—National Champion Betty Jameson, of San Antonio, Texas, and Marion Miley, of Lexington, Ky.—sent them into the finals of the women's Western golf tournament today.

Miss Jameson, the Helen Wills of golf, who plays with an eyeshade, shattered the Seattle Golf Club's competitive course record with a two-under-par 74 in defeating Muriel Veatch, of Longview, Wash. 2 and 1.

Miss Miley, women's Western winner in 1935 and 1937, came from behind with a blistering second nine to win five holes in a row and defeat red-haired Mrs. J. K. Priebe, Seattle city champion, 3 and 2.

Tomorrow the Misses Jameson and Miley play thirty-six holes for the 1940 championship, with their rounds scheduled for 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. (P.S.T.).

Hit in these key centres, said the ministry, was a network of railway junctions and freight yards in Western Germany "which must play an important part in any attempted invasion of Britain."

FIRE AND EXPLOSIONS

Docks, shipping and oil reservoirs at Emden and docks at Flushing in The Netherlands were raided and fires and explosions followed as the R.A.F. unloaded its bombs. Referring to the key points bombed the Air Ministry said: "Troops, reserves, equipment and supplies moving westwards to the Channel ports from Germany must pass through one or the other of these key transportation points."

Moves Slight in Dull Session of New York Mart

NEW YORK, Sept. 13 (AP)—Reserve levels in the stock market held today and leaders moved only fractionally in tentative dealings. Gains and losses of the fractional variety—balanced each other over most of the list. The Associated Press average of sixty selected stocks was off 1/4 of a point at 43.9, but the 204 issues which advanced numbered fifteen more than the declines.

Only 288,180 shares were transferred, compared with 403,130 yesterday. It was one of the most inactive sessions of the year.

Wall Street listened to rumors from London and Rome that "a development of the highest consequence" might soon be expected in the Mediterranean region.

With no advance as to the value of the rumors, traders simply sat tight, undecided as to whether they should dispose of present holdings or acquire more.

Lending on the rising side of the list included U.S. Steel, Youngstown, General Motors, Chrysler, U.S. Rubber, Sears Roebuck, Douglas, United Aircraft, American Telephone, Anaconda, Dow Chemical, Johns-Manville, N.Y. Central and Standard Oil of New Jersey.

Declines of a point or more came out in the foreign section of the bond market today when news that the Germans had signed out successfully against Government buildings and the Royal Palace in London for the second time brought precautionary selling.

Losers included Canada 21-2 3/4, 3 1/2 and 4 1/2; Brisbane 5 1/2 and Australia 5 1/2. Other foreign issues declining included Panama 6 1/2 and Czechoslovakia 8 1/2. Berlin 6 1/2 and Japan 5 1/2-2 1/2 were higher.

WHEAT PRICES UNABLE TO MOVE

WINNIPEG, Sept. 13 (CP)—Despite reports of the sale of approximately 2,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat and flour for deferred shipment to the United Kingdom, wheat prices on Winnipeg Grain Exchange today failed to rise from minimum levels of 73 1/2 cents a bushel for October wheat and 74 1/2 cents for December. However, both were traded during the session.

In addition, Greece was reported inquiring for 7,500,000 bushels of United States and Canadian wheat to 1-4 lower, while Buenos Aires was 3-8 cent higher at noon.

A good demand for all grades was reported in the cash wheat market, particularly in the lower grades, but light offerings restricted trade.

In coarse grains, oats and barley prices advanced slightly on support from domestic buyers.

I'LL WAIT FOR YOU

By MARGARET GORMAN NICHOLS
(Copyright, 1940, by Margaret Gorman Nichols)

CHAPTER XXII

Returning to Dick's guests and sitting on the low beige divan beside Corneille, Edwina tried to conquer the nervousness and restlessness that had seized her. Time was rushing by so quickly she could almost hear it when she closed her eyes. She saw the valuable antique desk in a drawing-room at home, one drawer of which, stuffed with bills, was locked. Financially she would not get through the summer. When did your creditors begin to pursue you? She sat up quickly, knowing that she could not permit desperation to spoil her disposition, her looks or her plans.

As Edwina tried to listen attentively to Corneille's telling of her own life, she found herself with the refuge of Norman's life. Their lives, hers and Norman's, would be a series of evenings like this, dinner and then quiet conversation with people who would not come and go but would remain steadfast friends. And she would never be alone. Her name, a name she had put in headlines and one familiar to scores of people, she would never know, she would gladly relinquish. The end of Edwina Burke, the legend of her, the lies about her, the jealousy and the beginning of Mrs. Norman Alexander. At such moments when she felt an overwhelming desire to cease being what she was, she almost loved him and almost forgot that she had to marry him for his money.

Later she talked with the publisher and his wife, thinking that never before had she cared what people thought of her, but now it was important for Norman's friends to think well of her. She found the time spent with the musician delightful. A few years ago she could have helped him, arranged a concert for him, and now she could do nothing. But a few years ago she had lived to take and not to give and everything had been squandered and wasted.

It was past one o'clock when Norman was driving her back to her hotel. "I'm going to be here a little longer than I thought," he said, "over the week-end, in fact. You haven't anything to take you back, have you? Why not stay over, too? Dick and Corneille and you and I will find something to do."

"It sounds grand. Of course I'll stay. But you haven't changed your mind about going back to Newton for the rest of the summer?" He chuckled. "No. Back I go on Monday, though I'm fit as a fiddle. The powers that be want to be sure that a healthy specimen returns in the fall so that they can go away with free minds. By the way, when we get back it looks good and cold. The club swimming pool is no place for anyone who likes to swim."

She laughed. "Democratic, aren't you? I like the quarry, too. The water is deep and cold. It's spring water, you know. Who told you about it?"

"Carol Tallant," he said, and then closed his mouth firmly over her name.

At her hotel he went as far as the elevator with her and then stood tall above her as she had held out her hand and looked up.

"With all the genuine sincerity she felt, she said, 'It was nice, Norman. Everything about tonight was nice.'"

Though he frowned, he smiled, too. It was an expression that had become familiar, a puzzled, amused expression that she had come to recognize when she knew that he liked her more than he had expected to, and when something she said touched the strings of his elusive heart.

"Edwina, you're the most astonishing girl alive."

"Tomorrow I'll ask you why."

"You don't have to. I know what you mean. I know exactly. You didn't think that Edwina Burke could be sincere or honest. Good night, darling."

The elevator door closed out the amused, puzzled expression. She compared the ascension to her present optimism, going up, looking up to something fine and enduring, and she did not mind the hot little room.

Carol had come out to the quarry with Ellen, a too thin, dark girl, a secretary on vacation. They had swum in the clear cold water and were now relaxing in the sun on the green bank, their eyes covered with the sounds of mischievous boys colliding, to one another, glass striking at first contact with the cold water and anxious young mothers remonstrating with gleeful children.

(To Be Continued)

MISSION CITY, Sept. 13 (CP)—The $12,000 St. Mary's Mission OMI School for Indian children was damaged early today by fire which swept through the upper part of the building.

A young Indian girl, who awakened to smell smoke about 1:30 a.m., gave the alarm and two sisters and four Indian boys were able to flee to safety. The Mission Fire Brigade arrived in time to keep the flames from spreading.

The mission was founded one mile east of Mission City by Father Fougnet in 1860. Cause of the blaze is not known.

MADE FOR THEIR JOI

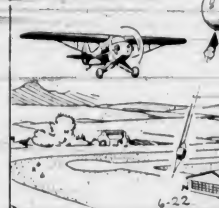

"Ain't nature wonderful?" said Bill.

"I don't see much that's wonderful in it," moaned his friend. "But what do you mean?"

"Well, a hundred years ago nobody ever thought of wearing glasses, yet here we are today with our ears fixed just in the right place to put them on."
